PENITENTIARY

INVESTIGATION The Legislative Committee Continues Its

Work at Philadelphia. STRANGE DEATH OF JOHN FRANKFORD

Witnesses Are Examined -- A Daughter of the Dead Convict Tells a Story of Her Visit to the Prison -- Dr. Bacon Admits Having Taken the Man's Brain Out for Scientific

Philadelphia, June 11.-The commit tee of the state legislature inquiring into the workings of the Eastern penitentiary resumed its session today. The entire day was taken up with an investigation of the death of John Frankford, the Lancaster county convict, in Jauary, 1896, and the subsequent treatment of his body. Quite an array of witnesses from Lancaster were on hand, among them being Margaret and William Rittenhouse, C. S. Herr, the Lancaster undertaker; Alexander Lopsley, the ex-convict; Charles M. Howell and H. H. Hensell, the latter two newspaper men. Dr. John D. Bacon, the prison physician at the time, was also examined.

Mrs. Rittenhouse, the dead convict's daughter, testified that on one occasion when she visited him in prison and asked him how he was getting along he The Measure Discussed in the House replied:

"Maggie, vou life's not your own in this place." *

Witness then spoke of his death and said she was told it was due to strangulated hernia. She did not see the body until it was ready for burial, when she noticed several bruises or cuts on the head which had been sewed up. John Rittenhouse told the committee Warden Cassidy refused to allow him to see the body when he visited the prison just after the death. When witness did see it, the stomach had not been sewed up and some of the bowels protruded. He also testified to a cut around the skull from temple to tem-

DR. BACON'S ADMISSION.

Dr. Bacon admitted having performed an operation. He took the brain out for scientific purposes and said that Frankford's death was due to strangulated hernia. He said he did not know whether he had a legal right to perform the autopsy or not. He presumed he had the right to do so, because his predecessors had done so.

The committee then adjourned. Another meeting may be held next week.

NEWS OF THE BIG MEET.

Philadelphia, June 11.—This year's oig accessions to league ranks from Pennsylvania can be directly traced to the energizing influences accompanying the preparations for holding the League of the American Wheelmen national meet in the metropolis of the state. Since the news of Philadelphia's success in securing the meet -was flashed over the wires the division membership has been almost doubled. One year ago the Quaker City contained but one league club; now there are four, and several other organizations are endeavoring to secure the necessary percentage of league members to warrant the filing of applications for League American Wheelmen club certificates.

That abomination, the annual parade, which at former league meets has been looked upon as a necessary evil, will probably be dispensed with, as it would undoubtedly take up vallow prices, and when the association uable time, which can be utilized by the visitors to much better advantage.
